Central Stool

The three-legged Central Stool was originally designed by Tamar de Shalit in 1951 as a student at London's Central School of Arts and Crafts. The smooth, half-moon, turned wooden form features three tapered legs and crafted mortise and tenon joints. The piece works either as an occasional table or a stool; its straight side can align with the wall or if paired with another stool forms a fully circular side table, which is then secured with hidden magnet fixings.

The Central Stool is a versatile seat or side table. It can be purchased as a single unit (1 stool) or as a pair (2 stools). A pair of stools is more sustainable to produce, thus more economical to purchase; here the two top surfaces are CNC'd from boards of solid hardwood, that are a premium AA rating, with matching grains and colouration. The packaging for one piece or a pair of stools is the same size. Fixed imbedded felt feet pads are partially recessed into the leg and come as standard.

Red Rock Club Lounge Table

The Red Rock Club Lounge Table originates from a furniture series custom-created for the famous 1970s Red Rock Hotel and Club, designed by Arthur Goldreich and Tamar de Shalit. This piece follows the same principles as the Red Rock Club Chair and Stool with the distinctive broad turned legs and curved tapered feet; the table has a compact footprint and has a table height of 60 cm. The stool is crafted from European sustainably sourced timbers – natural oak, ash and black stained ash – with an oiled finish. Fixed inserted felt feet pads are standard. Its refined construction means that the legs simply screw on, making it easy to transport. Fixed felt feet pads are partially recessed into the legs and come as standard.
